Rediscovering St. Maximilian Kolbe's Charism, a Splendid Path to Holiness

O Immaculata, please intercede that...

1. We may learn to surrender ourselves into your hands as docile children.
2. We may learn to be disciples who make attentiveness and docility their way of life.
3. Prayer may be the constant beat of our hearts.
4. We may learn to welcome and to embrace the logic of the Paschal Triduum.
5. Your example may help us to improve our Christian discipleship.
6. Our life may be a splendid gift for God and our brothers and sisters.
7. Our Christian life may be a luminous witness of faith, hope and charity.
8. Our ability to love may extend generously toward every person.
9. Our commitment in the spiritual life may make us ever more open to God's action.
10. We may proclaim and give witness to the Gospel with all our resources and complete dedication.
11. The example of the saints may motivate us to give our best in the spiritual journey.
12. The humility and poverty embraced by Christ and you may be a constant inspiration for our lives.
